Questions and Responses; Question No's. 7-12

Question #	QUESTION	RESPONSE
7	In the Legal Advertisement, FTA C 4220.1F is referenced, current version is .1G – which should bidders use?	Please use current version 1G
8	Does PRT hire construction management separately from this bid?	Yes, CM services are under separate contracts. No CM services are requested under RFP 26-25.
9	Do we submit our sample project responses, along with the staffing tables in Section 5? Or do we submit sample project responses in Section 3 and the staffing tables for said sample projects in Section 5?	Section 5
10	Section 2.3 asks Proposers to include three references of relevant work. For a firm proposing on both categories (A. Roadway and Site Work Design, and B. Building and Structure Design), is that three references total for the proposal, or three references for each category – up to six references if bidding on both?	Three references per category
11	The RFP requests three project references. Could you please clarify whether the three references are intended for the prime consultant only, or if each subconsultant is also required to provide three project references? If subconsultant project references are required in addition to the prime consultant's references, would the page limit be adjusted to accommodate the additional information?	Prime and subs please, project references are to be included in the Appendix and do not count against the page limit.
12	Could you please confirm whether the requested three project references represent the maximum number of project sheets that may be submitted, or if proposers are permitted to include additional project sheets beyond the three requested references?	Three is sufficient
